Part II Course Details

1. Abstract

(A 150-word description about the course)

In conjunction with their PhD supervisor, students are required to prepare an extensive annotated bibliography which then serves as a basis for writing up the opening chapters of their thesis.

This course aims to develop an in-depth understanding of a topic, through independent directed reading.

2. Course Intended Learning Outcomes (CILOs)

(CILOs state what the student is expected to be able to do at the end of the course according to a given standard of performance.)

No.	CILOs [#]	Weighting* (if applicable)	Discovery-enriched curriculum related learning outcomes (please tick where appropriate)

2.	Explore, analyze and evaluate a selection of existing literature in the field relevant to the chosen area of study;		√	√	√
3.	Apply the findings of the existing literature to their chosen area of study;		√	√	√

* If weighting is assigned to CILOs, they should add up to 100%.

[#] Please specify the alignment of CILOs to the Gateway Education Programme Intended Learning outcomes (PILOs) in Section A of Annex.

A1: Attitude

Develop an attitude of discovery/innovation/creativity, as demonstrated by students possessing a strong sense of curiosity, asking questions actively, challenging assumptions or engaging in inquiry together with teachers.

A2: Ability

Develop the ability/skill needed to discover/innovate/create, as demonstrated by students possessing critical thinking skills to assess ideas, acquiring research skills, synthesizing knowledge across disciplines or applying academic knowledge to self-life problems.

A3: Accomplishments

Demonstrate accomplishment of discovery/innovation/creativity through producing /constructing creative works/new artefacts, effective solutions to real-life problems or new processes.

3. Teaching and Learning Activities (TLAs)

(TLAs designed to facilitate students' achievement of the CILOs.)

TLA	Brief Description	CILO No.						Hours/week (if applicable)

	A student enrolled in the course will work with a designated supervisor. In the first stage of supervision, the student will decide on a topic to work on, and the supervisor will meet with him/her briefly to suggest some initial references. In the second stage of	√	√	√	√

	supervision, the supervisor will meet with the student in a detailed session to see if he/she has been able to select an appropriate focus in that area of study. The student, through independent research, adds to the reading list to develop a comprehensive annotated bibliography on the selected topic and writes a focused essay on any relevant issue arising from the readings. A student enrolled in both EN8930 (Independent Studies I) and EN8931 (Independent Studies II) will develop a different annotated bibliography and will write a focused essay on a different issue arising from the readings relevant to his/her chosen area of study.

Continuous Assessment: 100%
A student enrolled in EN8931 will be required to write an essay of about 5000 to 7000 words (excluding the reference list) on the chosen topic to reflect on the research theories and methods relevant to the topic. This is followed by an annotated bibliography of relevant readings. The annotations are brief, of no more than a paragraph or so on each of the readings relevant to the chosen topic. A student enrolled in both EN8930 (Independent Studies I) and EN8931 (Independent Studies II) will be required to submit a different annotated bibliography and a focused essay on a different issue arising from the readings relevant to his/her chosen area of study, which can then be turned into a chapter of the PhD thesis.	√	√	√	√

5. Assessment Rubrics

(Grading of student achievements is based on student performance in assessment tasks/activities with the following rubrics.)

Assessment Task	Criterion	Excellent (A+, A, A-)	Good (B+, B, B-)	Fair (C+, C, C-)	Marginal (D)	Failure (F)
Individual Research Essay	Demonstration of understanding, organisation, analysis and language proficiency	Students demonstrate strong evidence of original thinking and a superior grasp of subject matter. They display outstanding analytic and synthetic abilities in their description of the state of the art of their chosen topic. They also consistently maintain a high degree of grammatical accuracy and exhibit a very effective organization of information in their description.	Students demonstrate some evidence of original thinking and a good grasp of subject matter. They display good analytic and synthetic abilities in their description of the state of the art of their chosen topic. They also consistently maintain a good degree of grammatical accuracy and exhibit a good organization of information in their description.	Students demonstrate sufficient understanding of subject matter. They display some analytic and synthetic abilities in their description of the state of the art of their chosen topic. They also communicate with reasonable accuracy and exhibit an intelligible organization of information in their description.	Students demonstrate sufficient familiarity with subject matter to enable them to progress with their description of the state of the art of their chosen topic. They display very weak analytic and synthetic abilities in their description. They can use simple structures correctly but there are often noticeable grammatical anomalies.	Students demonstrate little evidence of familiarity with subject matter. They include irrelevant literature and display noticeable weaknesses in critical and analytic skills. They also show limited control of only a few simple grammatical structures and sentence patterns in their description.
