Part II Course Details

1. Abstract

(A 150-word description about the course)

The course aims at providing students with an understanding of the phonological organization of English and how pronunciation contributes to communication. Students will develop the ability to apply their knowledge of phonetics and phonology to analyze their own pronunciation of English as well as the English pronunciation of other ESL learners.

2. Course Intended Learning Outcomes (CILOs)

(CILOs state what the student is expected to be able to do at the end of the course according to a given standard of performance.)

Upon successful completion of this course, students should be able to:

No.	CILOs	Weighting* (if applicable)	Discovery-enriched curriculum related learning outcomes (please tick where appropriate)
			A1	A2	A3
1.	Discover the phonological organization of English;		√	√
2.	Identify the production and characteristics of English speech sounds;		√	√
3.	Apply their knowledge of phonetics and phonology to the transcription of English speech sounds;		√	√
4.	Discover how pronunciation contributes to communication;		√	√	√
5.	Reflect on their own English pronunciation and the English pronunciation of other ESL learners;		√	√	√
6.	Explore the problems of English pronunciation encountered by ESL learners.		√	√	√
		100%

* If weighting is assigned to CILOs, they should add up to 100%.

A1: Attitude

Develop an attitude of discovery/innovation/creativity, as demonstrated by students possessing a strong sense of curiosity, asking questions actively, challenging assumptions or engaging in inquiry together with teachers.

A2: Ability

Develop the ability/skill needed to discover/innovate/create, as demonstrated by students possessing critical thinking skills to assess ideas, acquiring research skills, synthesizing knowledge across disciplines or applying academic knowledge to self-life problems.

A3: Accomplishments

Demonstrate accomplishment of discovery/innovation/creativity through producing /constructing creative works/new artefacts, effective solutions to real-life problems or new processes.

3. Teaching and Learning Activities (TLAs)

(TLAs designed to facilitate students' achievement of the CILOs.)
