Assessment Rubrics (AR)*Assessment Task

1. Script Writing

Excellent (A+, A, A-)

Writing demonstrates superior ability to combine verbal and visual elements in a dramatic structure to meet the requirements of the specific form(s) and genres employed. This includes a clear focus on a central conflict and scenes; the ability to collapse time and storyline to the most urgent and necessary scenes as well as dialogue that serves the scenes; and believable and effective dialogue. Regardless of form, the script must demonstrate a solid command of language, as well as a style suited to the chosen form and genre. With respect to genre, the writing must demonstrate a mastery of the traditions of the chosen genre or show innovation in a creative reworking or subversion of established traditions, which can be in terms of language or theme or elements of craft.

Good (B+, B, B-)

Writing demonstrates good ability to combine verbal and visual elements in a dramatic structure to meet the requirements of the specific form(s) and genres employed.

Fair (C+, C, C-)

Writing demonstrates average but competent ability to combine verbal and visual elements in a dramatic structure to meet the requirements of the specific form(s) and genres employed.

Marginal (D)

Writing demonstrates weak ability to combine verbal and visual elements in a dramatic structure to meet the requirements of the specific form(s) and genres employed.

Failure (F)

Writing lacks competent ability to combine verbal and visual elements in a dramatic structure to meet the requirements of the specific form(s) and genres employed.

2. Class Participation

Excellent (A+, A, A-)

Writing demonstrates superior ability to combine verbal and visual elements in a dramatic structure to meet the requirements of the specific form(s) and genres employed. This includes a clear focus on a central conflict and scenes; the ability to collapse time and storyline to the most urgent and necessary scenes as well as dialogue that serves the scenes; and believable and effective dialogue. Regardless of form, the script must demonstrate a solid command of language, as well as a style suited to the chosen form and genre. With respect to genre, the writing must demonstrate a mastery of the traditions of the chosen genre or show innovation in a creative reworking or subversion of established traditions, which can be in terms of language or theme or elements of craft.

Good (B+, B, B-)

Contributions to class discussions and workshop demonstrate a careful reading of the piece under discussion, the ability to adequately apply knowledge of the craft of fiction in identifying strengths and weaknesses, and useful comments and suggestions for the author. The contribution is expressed in a clear, detailed, tactful and professional manner.

Fair (C+, C, C-)

Contributions to class discussions and workshop demonstrate an adequate though not always careful reading of the piece under discussion, the ability apply knowledge of the craft of fiction in identifying some strengths and weaknesses, and moderately useful comments and suggestions for the author.

Marginal (D)

Contributions to class discussions and workshop demonstrate cursory or incomplete reading of the piece under discussion, and the ability apply some knowledge of the craft of fiction in identifying some strengths and weaknesses, though these may not be accurate, insightful or helpful.

Failure (F)

Contributions to class discussions and workshop demonstrate little understanding of the piece under discussion, and little ability apply knowledge of the craft of fiction in identifying strengths and weaknesses. The contribution may be expressed in an unclear or unprofessional manner.

Assessment Task

3. Criteria: Explication/ Critique

Excellent (A+, A, A-)

The critique demonstrates a thorough knowledge of the elements, techniques and traditions of script writing and the ability to apply this knowledge in identifying and evaluating features in the script. The analysis is insightful, convincingly argued and clearly expressed.

Good (B+, B, B-)

The critique demonstrates good knowledge of the elements, techniques and traditions of creative script writing and the ability to apply this knowledge in identifying and evaluating features in the script. The analysis is relatively insightful, convincingly argued and clearly expressed.

Fair (C+, C, C-)

The critique demonstrates some knowledge of the elements, techniques and traditions of script writing and the ability to apply this knowledge in identifying and evaluating some relevant features in the script. There may be some problems with the way the argument is presented or the quality of the language.

Marginal (D)

The critique demonstrates little knowledge of the elements, techniques and traditions of script writing and little ability to apply this knowledge in identifying and evaluating some relevant features in the script. There may be major problems with the way the argument is presented or the quality of the language.
